

Garry Grueber

A graduate of Germany's Geisenheim University with a degree in horticulture, Grueber was with the Kientzler group of companies for two decades, dealing with product development, plant breeding, IP management, PR/marketing and international relations. During this time, he co-founded InnovaPlant and InnovaPlant de Costa Rica, as well as setting the foundation for the international Proven Winners network. His experience in IP management and resource networking, plus experience in tropical horticulture benefit the practical implementation of the Global Breadfruit project.
