OUR TEAM
The multidisciplinary Global Breadfruit team assists farmers, aid workers and other interested parties in the development of integrated agricultural systems based on the cultivation of breadfruit. We offer a wide range of experience in many different countries and work hard to ensure the success of every tree we ship.	Our collaboration with the Breadfruit Institute at the National Tropical Botanical Garden and their experts allows us access to cutting-edge research and the capacity to develop and implement the most relevant studies to advance knowledge of this incredible tree. We focus on health and productivity, processing and production as well as analyzing the nutritional content of each variety.
